1. Transfer of Copyright

By signing this agreement, the Author(s) hereby transfer, assign, and convey to the Social Science and Human Research Bulletin (SSHRB) all copyright ownership, including any and all rights incidental thereto, exclusively worldwide. This transfer includes the right to reproduce, publish, distribute, and archive the Article in all forms and media of expression now known or developed in the future, including electronic, print, and reprints.

2. Author Warranties and Declarations

The Author(s) warrant and represent that:

- Originality: The Article is the original work of the Author(s) and has not been published previously in its current form.
- No Plagiarism: The work does not contain any plagiarized material, and all references, data, and citations from other sources are accurately credited.
- Not Under Consideration: The Article is not currently under review, submitted, or accepted for publication by any other journal or publisher.
- No Infringement: The Article contains no libelous, defamatory, or unlawful statements and does not infringe upon the intellectual property rights, privacy, or statutory rights of any third party.

3. Rights Retained by the Author(s)

Notwithstanding the above transfer of copyright, the Author(s) retain the following rights:

- The right to use all or part of the Article in future works of their own, such as lectures, press releases, reviews, or textbooks, provided that SSHRB is cited as the original publisher.
- The right to self-archive the submitted, accepted, or published version of the Article on their personal website or institutional repository.
- All proprietary rights relating to the Article, other than copyright, such as patent rights and trademark rights.

4. Open Access and Licensing

Since SSHRB operates as an open-access journal providing free availability of its content, the published Article will be distributed under a standard Creative Commons License (e.g., CC BY). This ensures that while the journal holds the publishing rights, the academic community may read, download, and share the work, provided proper attribution is given to the Author(s) and SSHRB.

5. Agreement Signature

I, the Corresponding Author, acknowledge that I have read and agree to all the terms and conditions detailed in this Copyright Transfer Agreement. I sign this document on behalf of myself and any co-authors.
